(Mary and Micah recount the varying degrees of vaccine reactions in 3 of their 4 children. Their two eldest children, Claire and Judah, experienced a downturn in their immune health following their routine childhood vaccinations. But most concerning was their daughter Sophia's reaction after her 12 month shots. After receiving multiple shots, Sophia was clearly unwell even before leaving the doctor's office. Her demeanor completely changed within the days after, losing her appetite, experiencing gastrointestinal issues and spiking an uncontrollable fever. Soon after the fever came down, Sophia had a grand mal seizure. Sophia experienced subsequent seizures and also has developed pediatric autoimmune neuropsychiatric disorder associated with streptococcus. After experiencing the damage that vaccines cause, Mary and Micah chose not to vaccinate their fourth child, whose development and health is far superior to that of his vaccinated siblings.)
